

This is the 1998 report of the panel formed as a result of the 1992 President John F. Kennedy Records Collection Act. The Review Board has worked hard to obtain all records relating to the assassination of President Kennedy and to release the records to the fullest extent possible to the American people. The Board and its staff have contributed significant professional and personal time to this important effort. We have done so in the hope that release of these records will shed new evidentiary light on the assassination of President Kennedy, enrich the historical understanding of that tragic moment in American history, and help restore public confidence in the governments handling of the assassination and its aftermath. The Review Boards Final Report is unanimous. It summarizes the Boards experience in interpreting and applying this unique way to provide broad access to government records. Most importantly, it illuminates the Review Boards legacyâ€™the John F. Kennedy Assassination Records Collection at the National Archives.
