

There is a great need to reawaken the Church today to its true biblical mandate of honoring its Lord and Master by being faithful and obedient to His command of world evangelism. What has the Lord said about the evangelization of the lost? What does he expect us to do? How has the African church been responding to this task? What are the obstacles that the church in Africa currently faces as it seeks to fulfill the Great Commission? What should we do to foster a missions mindset in the churches today? These and other questions are answered in this vital book on world evangelism.
